

FROM GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD

Woman Relied Upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Emporia, Kansas.—"I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines years ago when I was a girl. For several years I had severe pains at menstrual periods, making me very weak and interfering with my regular duties. I tried several remedies without obtaining relief. I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by friends and it restored me to normal health. I often have occasion and do recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to my own. You may use these facts as a testimonial."—EVA ALDRICH, 218 Union St., Emporia, Kansas.

There are many women who first used our Vegetable Compound during their girlhood days. They found it a valuable help during trying periods. In later years they use it whenever they feel those annoying symptoms which women often have.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is prepared carefully from the best quality of medicinal plants, whose properties are especially adapted to correct the troubles women have.

NORTHCLEFFE BALKS AT CUTTING PRINTERS' PAY

Opposed to efforts to reduce the wages of printers on London daily newspapers, Lord Northcliffe has resigned from the Newspaper Proprietors' Association. He takes all his newspapers, including the Times and the Daily Mail, with him.

He has let it be known that there will be no reductions in the wages of printers employed on his publications.

The Association was involved in the matter; hence he decided to break with it.

BOBBED HAIR GROWS IN POPULARITY

The popularity of bobbing hair among women continues to grow, according to officials of the Hairdressers' and Cosmeticians' Association, of St. Louis, which has about 250 members.

The Association has decided to agree with the State Board of Barber Examiners that hairdressers should cease cutting children's hair, but will continue to bob hair for women, announcements state.

AGRICULTURAL AGENTS TO INSPECT WHEAT FIELDS

In order to encourage cleaner and better wheat in Kentucky, the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station this summer will inspect approximately 100 fields of Ashland, the new pedigreed and high yielding variety developed by the station, to determine if other varieties or noxious weeds have been mixed with the seed of Ashland since it left the station. It has been announced. The inspection is now on in the Southern part of the State and will end on June 23 in the Northern part.

In addition to foreign varieties of wheat, the fields will be inspected for the presence of wild onions, cheat, cockle and other noxious weeds. Following the inspection, a list of farmers who have Ashland seed available for sale will be compiled in order to help other farmers get started with this variety, Mr. Kenney said.

Ashland, which was developed from a single head of Jersey-Fultz wheat on the station farm, has proved to the highest yielding variety of soft wheat ever grown on the station farm, according to Mr. Kenney. It has yielded an average of two-and-one-half bushels an acre better than any of the other varieties.

This is the third year that farmers have grown the crop, Mr. Kenney said. Many farmers who seeded last fall were unable to obtain it because of the limited supply. The proposed inspection is expected to perform an important service in locating all available supplies of good seed.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE

Paris People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease

The symptoms of kidney trouble are many. Disordered kidneys often excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back may ache, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighted down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better endorsed kidney remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Paris proof of their merit.

Joe Kiely, proprietor shoe repair shop, 617 Ferguson street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me a world of good and I take pleasure in recommending them to anyone suffering with kidney trouble. I was a sufferer from kidney complaint and my back ached most of the time. My kidneys were weak and the secretions were highly colored and contained sediment. I lost my sleep at night, as there was no let up to the pain in my back. I got four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills at Ardery's Drug Store and used them. They rid me of the trouble entirely."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Kiely had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

A HEALTHY COUNTRY

Figures have been presented to the national convention of State Boards of Health at Washington, showing that 1921 was the healthiest year on record in this country. Some people will say it was because it was a poor business year, and that in difficult times people do not overload their systems with rich food. Others will say that the American people are drinking less liquor.

However such causes may factor, the health campaign that has been promoted all over the country should be bringing results. The people are learning that one half of the deaths occur far earlier than is necessary. Children are brought up in a more sanitary way, and contagious diseases are being reduced.

What is needed now is to push this campaign home to every family in the community. A single unsanitary household is a disease peril, for its children to go out and carry their deadly infections to the most careful home. The people have a personal interest in seeing that health education is carried into the most ignorant family.

THE DRUNK

I stood on the bridge at midnight
As drunk as a son of a gun,
Two moons arose in the heavens
When there should have been only one.

I wondered which one belonged there,
And which was the moon divine—
The moon of a happy fancy,
The child of the corn and wine?

I looked for the lights of the village,
But never a light was lit—
I bit off a chew of tobacco
And stepped to the rail and spit.

I spit into the turbid water
And into a bullfrog's eye,
And I thought of the long dead millions
When I heard the bullfrog cry.

Then I wept for the countless thousands
Of the long dead sons of men,
Who would never be back in Kentucky,
And could never get drunk again.

TRY PICKING DANDELIONS

(Chicago Tribune)

We offer herewith a mild suggestion to persons who, while enjoying a country outing, are unable to differentiate between the beauties of a protected field of wild flowers and desolation of a field which has been stripped and left to weeds and grass by the wayside vandals. If they must pick something which does not belong to them, let them try picking dandelions.

The flower of that ubiquitous weed, we are told, though we haven't tried it, forms the base of a potent, pleasing and inspiring beverage. The leaves, we know by experience, can form one of the most wholesome and appetizing vegetable dishes known to modern cookery. It is the spinach with a kick.

And no one will begrudge their passing. Vandals may exercise their most destructive inclinations against the dandelion. Tear them up, root and branch. Bedeck the automobiles with them. Throw them into a boiling caldron. Serve them with oil—or vinegar. Eat them alive. Do your worst—to the dandelion. Oil—or vinegar. Eat them alive.

THE WEIGHT OF FLATTERY

(Harper's Magazine)

A court in Mississippi was once presided over by a rural Justice of the Peace. "I realize," said the counsel for the defense, "that I stand in the presence of a descendant of the grand old Huguenot family which emigrated from France to escape from religious intolerance. Many able jurists have sprung from that family and embellished the bench and bar of the Union. Their watchwords are honor, truth and justice, and their names are spoken in every home. The law is so plain in this case that 'he who runs may read.' Shall I insult the intelligence of this court by reiterating a proposition so simple? Need I say more—"

"No," said the Judge, "taint necessary—I'll give you a judgment."

Counsel sat down, while the Judge with emphasis knocked the ashes from his pipe, and counsel for the plaintiff began:

"May it please the court—"

"Squire, what are you fixin' to do?" asked the Judge.

"I have the closing argument," was the reply.

"Well, you jes' as well set down. I done got my mind sot on the other side. Judgment for the defendant."

Not even USCO ever touched this value before
30x3½-$10.90

WHEN you look at a 30x3½ USCO at $10.90 think back for a minute as far as you can remember USCO.

The truth is that men have always found USCO an outstanding money's worth no matter what its price.

Today at $10.90 USCO maintains its established standard of quality.

And because of the new price, it sets a new index of tire value.

Men who have used USCO have never been inclined to measure its value by the general run of tires.

APPLICANTS FAIL TO PASS

Over 50 per cent. of the applicants who stood the examination for elementary certificates failed to pass, according to an announcement made at Frankfort by Warren Peyton, high school supervisor, who had charge of the work of grading the papers. Three hundred and ninety-four of the applicants received first-class certificates, and 1,085 second class certificates. One thousand and five hundred and sixty-eight failed.

NEAR-PROGRESSIVES

(Congressional Record)
Senator Pat Harrison (Dem., Mass) was speaking of Albert J. Beveridge and Clifford Pinchot in connection with their recent campaign expenditures, when Senator King (Dem., Utah), interrupted to ask why he had called them progressives.

"I called them so-called Progressives," said Senator Harrison.

"Oh, I see," said Mr. King. They are like near-beer, one half of one per cent progressive."
